Faserland (Kapitel 1)

Faserland is the debut novel by Christian Kracht, published in 1995. It is considered to have triggered the new wave of German pop literature. It is the swan song of the generation of the 80s, whose characteristics are so carefully described in the book that it has been called the "cult novel of a generation". Critics often compare the book to those of the American author Bret Easton Ellis.

Faserland - Wikipedia

Faserland ist mehr als die Geschichte eines verwöhnten Schnösel, der dekadent durch die Lande zieht, und stets betrunken hinter dem Steuer sitzt, es ist gleichzeitig ein Versuch zur Abkehr von der Oberfläche hin zur Freiheit.

Faserland (Kapitel 3)

The film was shot in Prague and visual effects were used to make it look like a triumphant Berlin. The adaptation gets rid of some of the nuances and side plots of the Harris novel such as a Nazi era European Union. It becomes a staid thriller where someone wishes to keep the secrets of the past to remain hidden.
